IRIS MANAGED PAYROLL SERVICE

What is outsourcing?

Payroll outsourcing means that organisations and businesses choose to hire a specialist external company to handle part or whole of their payroll function to save them time and money, gain efficiencies and ensure compliance.

Why IRIS?

IRIS has specialised in payroll for 40 years and this experience means we fully understand all aspects of payroll to be able to offer you a first-class service ensuring you are legislatively compliant whilst paying staff accurately and on time. For our IRIS Managed Payroll service, we use our own market-leading and HMRC recognised payroll software which to help you:

1) Save Time

Payroll can be a laborious and repetitive task, requiring attention each pay period. Outsourcing payroll means that all of the work gets done externally, so you pay your employees accurately and on time, meeting the legislative requirements for both HMRC and the Pensions Regulator, whilst freeing up your time to add real value to your organisation.

2) Reduce your costs

According to Totaljobs.com, the average salary of a payroll manager is £29,000 (June 18). Combine this with the cost of printing payslips, sealing machines, payroll software and regular training for legislative updates, outsourcing your payroll could save you a vast amount of money.

3) Comply with legislation

Legislation surrounding Real Time Information (RTI), Automatic Enrolment (AE), benefits and holiday pay, is constantly changing. Our payroll experts are CIPP accredited, or working towards it. They receive regular legislation training to ensure they are at the forefront of any changes, helping you remain compliant.

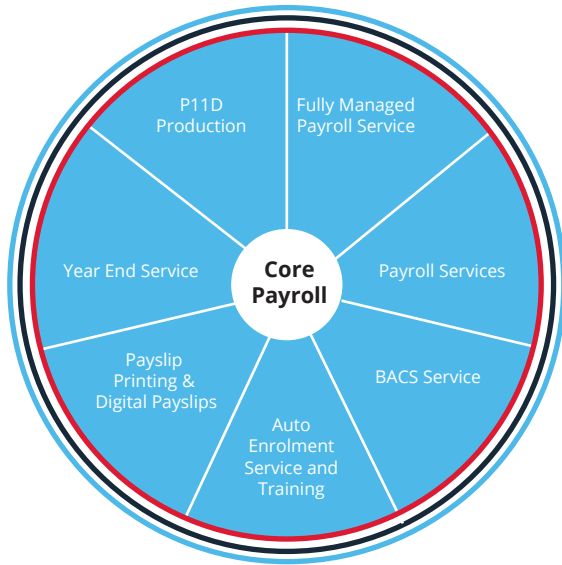

4) Reduce the risk of errors

The "day-to-day" work of ensuring your payroll is correct, up-to-date and using all the correct tax codes can be challenging, time-consuming and fraught with risks of error. The IRIS Managed Payroll service team are proud to have a 99.9% accuracy rate.

5) Improve efficiency

Outsourcing to IRIS enables you access to a large amount of reports which can be specialised to suit your business needs. This can help you concentrate on your business and your area of expertise.
